New Home Sought For "Sleeping Beauties"

CLEVELAND (AP)—A temporary new home was being arranged today for the "sleeping beauties"—bright-eyed Bernadette Frattantonio, 3, and her sister, Venita, 5—while lawyers prepared to defend their mother at a jury trial next month.

Criminal charges against Mrs. Lillian Frattantonio will be tried during the week of Sept. 19. Judge Margaret Spellacy made that ruling Friday when she transferred custody of the youngsters to the Roman Catholic charities bureau.

The 29-year-old mother is charged with ill treatment of her daughters by secretly giving them overdoses of sleep-inducing

U.S. Snares Space Capsule And Makes History . . .

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH

HONOLULU (AP)—The U.S. Air Force today celebrated history's first aerial catch of a capsule ejected from an orbiting satellite.

The capsule, snared by a dangling device which hooked into its parachute shrouds, was plucked from the sky 8,500 feet over the Pacific Friday by a C-119 Flying Boxcar after its ejection from Discoverer XIV over Alaska.

"I don't see why we can't catch them all from now on," exclaimed the successful plane's navigator, Lieut. Robert Combs, 25, who with others of the 10-man crew was decorated on arrival back in Hawaii.

security powers himself and proclaimed a state of emergency over radio Mall.

The move followed an overnight crisis splitting Senegal from the former French Sudan.

The Mali Federation was formed in April, 1959 by a merger of the two territories within the French community.

Senegal proclaimed its secession from the Federation early today as bitter rivalries flared between Senegal and Sudanese leaders on the approach of elections to choose a Mali president.

Mobido Keita, Sudanese premier and prime minister of the two-state Federation, was reported to be held a virtual prisoner by Senegalese troops in the federal palace.

The crisis broke with dramatic suddenness Friday night after a special session of the Mali cabinet, headed by Keita, stripped Senegal Premier Mamadou Dia of his post as federal defence and internal security minister.

Canadian Troops Must Quit Congo Demands Russia

Powers' Family Pins Hopes On Khrushchev Clemency

MOSCOW (AP)—Francis Gary Powers' family gathered its forces today for a drive to reduce his 10-year sentence for spying against Russia. They pinned their hopes on Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Their American lawyers planned a conference with the 31-year-old pilot's Soviet defence counsel, Mikhail Griniov.

Frank Rogers, one of the lawyers sent by the Virginia Bar Association to observe Powers' three-day trial, said the machinery for granting clemency would be set in motion today.

After the initial appeal, Rogers said, the family would follow up with a direct plea to Khrushchev.

"We will stay here and fight for Gary as long as our money holds out and the Soviet government lets us," said Oliver Powers of Pound, Va., the pilot's father.

ONE FATHER TO ANOTHER When the elder Powers arrived here a week ago with his wife, Ida, he said he planned to appeal to Khrushchev "as one father to another." He disclosed that Khrushchev had promised to help him, but he did not say how he received a message from the Soviet premier or elaborate on its contents.

An appeal through the courts could be based on points of law and made to the president of the Supreme Court or the procurator (prosecutor) general. But this is a lengthy, complicated process.

It would be simpler for Barbara Powers, the pilot's 24-year-old wife, to follow the plan she outlined Friday to a Soviet reporter.

DIRECT APPEAL She said she would appeal for clemency directly to Leonid Brezhnev, the president of the Soviet Union whose duties are mostly ceremonial and the Presidium (Parliament) of the Soviet Union, which always follows the policy laid down by the Communist party.

The Powers family today was in a condition best described as stunned following the ordeal of the three-day trial, the verdict and a bitter-sweet reunion with the young pilot Friday.

Powers broke down and cried after kissing his wife.

The reunion, lasting one hour and 15 minutes, was the family's first since Powers' U-2 reconnaissance plane crashed on Soviet territory May 1.

The family sat around a table in a room behind the judge's dias in the Hall of Columns, scene of the trial.

FOOD BUT NO APPETITE The table was laden with caviar, sandwiches, tea and coffee, but they were unable to eat. Several Soviet guards stood in the room during the entire meeting.

Alexander Parker, lawyer from Richmond, Va., said later the family discovered during the meeting that Powers did not know they were in Moscow until he saw them at the trial. Barbara had sent him a telegram after they arrived but Powers said he had not got it.

B.C. Rescue Bid "Impossible"

VANCOUVER (CP)—A mountain rescue expert Friday advised against any effort to find the bodies of four mountaineers on Mt. Waddington.

Ian Kay, executive board chairman of the Mountain Rescue Group, made a flight over the scene and reported that heavy snow has fallen over the area of the fatal avalanche, obliterating all tracks and traces of the lost party's camp.

"There is considerable danger of further avalanche and without tracks searchers would face an almost impossible task," he said.

Major Upsets Hit Wildcat Strike Of U.K. Seamen

LONDON (Reuters)—The 11-day wildcat strike of British seamen suffered setbacks both at home and in foreign ports today.

Biggest jolt came when the 34,000-ton Cunard liner Caronia left Southampton for New York with only one man short in her crew of 800.

But 106 ships still lay idle in British ports for lack of crew and fresh waterfront troubles piled up with a day-old wildcat strike of longshoremen in London and was cancelled.

The company said it would have some 700 passengers airlifted to North America.

Youth Booked In Sadistic Slaying Of Man And Wife

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—"I was working for him. One of them couldn't stand it when the guy pleaded with us not to hurt him—so I stabbed him to shut him up."

Police say a skinny youth of 16 suddenly gave this explanation for the sadistic slaying of a man and wife who were stripped, tied and repeatedly stabbed.

Karl Gentry told police that he and a chum, David Sletier, killed Charles Duvel, 45, and his wife, Sylvia, 47, in a robbery to finance new tires for Sletier's car.

Duvel was a wealthy vitarhin and cosmetics distributor. He had 200 door-to-door salesmen

Kuznetsov Objects To "Unlawful Actions"

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The Soviet Union charged Canadian United Nations troops in the Congo with "unlawful actions" and demanded their immediate withdrawal, Tass news agency reported.

Tass said the demand was made by Soviet UN delegate Vasily Kuznetsov in an interview with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Kuznetsov was quoted as saying the Canadians' "unlawful actions" took place during a Leopoldville airport incident Thursday in which 13 Canadian signalmen were manhandled by Congolese troops.

Kuznetsov's statement said: "According to reports from Leopoldville, a clash occurred on Aug. 18 at Leopoldville airport between troops of the Congolese republic and Canadian soldiers, sent to the Congo on the instructions of the United Nations, caused by the unlawful actions of the latter."

"The United Nations command directed considerable forces to the airport and ordered them to open fire on persons not belonging to the United Nations forces trying to enter the airport, and also on soldiers of the Congolese republic if they appeared on the airport."

"The Soviet government strongly objects to the above said actions of the United Nations command as contradicting the Security Council resolution of July 14 of this year, under which the secretary-general is empowered to take necessary steps for giving military assistance to the government of the Republic of Congo."

"Moreover, such measures must be taken only after due consultation with the government of the Republic of Congo."

"The Soviet government insists that the United Nations secretary-general should take steps to annul the above order of the United Nations command and also to prevent any actions liable to interfere with the Congolese authorities' jurisdiction over all the airports in the territory of this country, including Leopoldville airport."

"The Soviet government also insists that the forces of Canada, which is the ally of Belgium, the country that launched an aggression against the Republic of Congo, should be immediately withdrawn from the Congo," Kuznetsov's statement said.

P.M. TAKES SOBER VIEW OF IRISH

DUBLIN (AP)—Prime Minister Sean Lemass took a sober swipe at the widely held belief that the Irish, to a man, are inveterate guzzlers.

It was a myth, he said, fostered years ago by the British as a weapon against Irish independence.

And now, he said, it was being sustained by Irish writers out for royalties.

"One of the most persistent and irritating falsehoods about the Irish is that they are excessive consumers of alcoholic drink," Lemass told a meeting Friday in Rockwell College, County Tipperary.

Rarely was there ever a play about Ireland without the characters moving around in clouds of alcoholic vapor, he said.

"But the simple truth is that the per capita consumption of alcohol in Ireland is one of the lowest for all countries for which reliable statistics are available," Lemass claimed.

UN headquarters sent a platoon of Ghanian troops under a Negro major to safeguard embassy soil.

The Belgian was Gaston Dieu, assistant general manager of Sabena Airline, who appeared before a Leopoldville district court on two charges.

He was accused of inciting disorder against the government and deliberately diverting a Sabena aircraft from Luluabourg, Kasai province, to Elisabethville, Katanga, to bring about the arrest of two officials of Premier Patrice Lumumba's national Congolese party.

Dieu denied the charges in court and claimed he was mistreated for six hours in a Congolese prison after his arrest a few days ago. He said his Congolese captors dashed buckets of water in his face until he called for help.

He bared his left shoulder in court to display bruises.

Dieu was provisionally freed by the court and drove with his lawyer to the French Embassy. France now is acting for Belgium here following severance of diplomatic relations with Brussels.

After UN forces extracted a promise that no violence would be used in re-arresting Dieu, the Congolese troops withdrew, leaving two armed soldiers on guard.

But later a squad of armed Congolese reappeared. About the same time, a platoon of Ghanian UN troops took up positions again near the Embassy entrance.

PASS OUT BEER Security agents shouted for the French ambassador to come out and discuss the situation. A French Embassy official talked with them at the Embassy entrance and shortly afterwards a servant emerged with a dozen bottles of beer for the Congolese.

The Embassy refused to release Dieu, saying he suffers from a bad heart and needed medical attention.

Lumumba's private secretary who lives down the road-uppeered and told the Congolese gentlemen and police: "Go and get soldiers to arrest him. He is a prisoner."

The procurator-general here—a Belgian official working for the Congolese government—said Dieu was not yet free. He must await a government decision on whether it would appeal against this morning's court decision.

The president, prosecuting counsel and defence counsel at the hearing were also Belgian. The Congolese have no qualified lawyers of their own.

Burner May Have Caused Close-Call Lumby Mill Fire

Nineteen Lumby Volunteer firemen answered a call Friday afternoon at 5:30 to the Lumby mill fire. An effort to control the blaze was delayed because the alarm was turned in by crane was still out of commission.

The Wednesday mishap, when Peter Smith was injured, could have been started by a spark from the burner. Had they been able to use the crane they would have been able to tear the log deck apart and apply the hose to the actual spots that were burning. As it was, they had to pour gallons of water on the deck while it was intact. Two hours later, the fire was considered out, although it will be carefully watched just in case it starts up again.

Although the cause of the fire has not been positively ascertained, firemen said it looked like it could have been started by a spark from the burner. Had they been able to use the crane they would have been able to tear the log deck apart and apply the hose to the actual spots that were burning.

Assistant Fire Chief Henry Catt took charge in fire chief Cec Will's absence.

Picking Of McIntosh Crop May Start After Labor Day

VERNON (Staff) — Depart-ment of agriculture officials said yesterday that picking of McIntosh apples would start after Labor Day.

The apple crop in Vernon and district will, in all probability, start to come off the trees the first week in September. Generally speaking, the Macs are beginning to take on color which has been slow in some places. Cool night and a little rain help with the color on Macs, it is explained.

The harvest of Duchess variety of apples is about completed. Picking of Wealthies — also Bartlett pears — will probably start next week in the Vernon, Oyam, Winfield and Okanagan center areas.

Rochester, Spotted, Red Haven and Jubilee peaches are being picked. The favorite V peaches should be available next week. The estimate of 1960 apple, all varieties, for the entire Okanagan is more than 249 million pounds. The peach harvest for the entire valley is estimated at nearly 28 million pounds.

VERNON SOCIAL NOTES

VERNON (Staff) — Mrs. J. S. Thomson, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Alan Beacroft, of Penticton, leaves Monday for a holiday at Harrison Hot Springs. They will travel to Vancouver for the Pacific National Exhibition, and plan to spend a few days in Bellingham, Wash., before returning to the Okanagan.

Miss Verna Roberts returns to Vancouver today after a week's vacation here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts.

Miss Mary Obana and Miss Fumiko Sasaki of Toronto will be visitors in Vernon for the next ten days. They are spending their holidays with Miss Obana's mother, Mrs. Kane Obana. Before coming to the Okanagan, Miss Obana and Miss Sasaki spent some time at Qualicum Beach.

Attending the Pacific National Exhibition this weekend are a number of Vernon City Council and Board of Trade members and their wives. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oliver, John Ladyman and son Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. John Kassa, Peter Genier, Ald. and Mrs. Fred August and Ald. Eric Palmer, Mayor Frank Becker and Mrs. Becker are special guests of the PNE. Mayor Becker is a Pacific National Exhibition governor.

Vernon Teen Towners will bid "bon voyage" to young soldiers at Teen Town's last candle dance of the summer. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. in the scout hall.

Dr. T. S. G. McMurtry and Mrs. McMurtry are holidaying at Mabel Lake. They will return to their home here Monday.

Wet Weather Cuts B.C. Fire Hazard

VICTORIA (CP)—Wet weather during the last week has reduced the fire hazard to low to moderate through all forest districts in British Columbia, and enabled fire fighters to mop up and extinguish more than 432 forest fires. A report issued by the B.C. Forest Service said the cost of fire fighting during the week totalled $623,000, bringing the total for the year to $2,427,000 or $300 short of the record total in 1958, British Columbia's worst fire season.

Biggest fire fighting cost this year was in the Kamloops forest district, where more than $2,500,000 was spent fighting 1,026 fires. Vancouver fire district had 1,571 fires this year, but the cost of fighting them totalled only $77,000. Nelson forest district had 533 fires and spent $1,178,000 in fire fighting, while Prince George district had 318 fires costing the forest service $382,325.

Vernon Marksman Close To Gaining Bisley Berth

VERNON (Staff) — Jack Vecqueray says he has never considered himself "a good shot." But the Vernon sharpshooter nearly made the 1961 Bisley team at Dominion-wide competitions in Ottawa last week. He missed by only eight points. Top riflemen from all provinces competed in the shoot. Eighteen of them will go to Bisley, Eng., next summer to match their skill with other Commonwealth marksmen. Mr. Vecqueray placed 47th in the Canadian aggregate among 670 of Canada's best shots. To qualify for the Ottawa meet, competitors had to place high at provincial contests. Ron Weeks, Kelowna, was also on the B.C. team of 24.

An indication of the standard at Ottawa is the fact only one of four entries from last year's Bisley team qualified for the 1961 squad. Mr. Vecqueray said the last two shots at the Canadian meet were the most demanding. At 900 yards, bullseyes "looked like

Miss Vernon In Today's PNE Parade

VERNON (Staff)—Barbara Wolsey, 1960 "Miss Vernon" of Okanagan Landing will be the "First Lady" from this city at the Pacific National Exhibition where she will ride in the parade today.

After doing the honors for Vernon at the Penticton Peach Festival she participated in the Kelowna Regatta.

Also leaving yesterday morning were Miss Jackie Maynard, Miss Lynn Cormack, Miss Judy McDonald, Miss Ada Wellbourne, Miss Gwyneth Oliver and Miss Linda Freeman.

These girls will be dressed in ski togs and carry ski equipment. They will ride on the Vernon Board of Trade "Silver Star" float in today's parade. Also taking part is the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kassa and three majorettes.

The Vernon Volunteer Fire Department's float is also on the way to the Coast for the parade as well as members of the McIntosh Girls' Pipe Band.

Various local businessmen are at the Coast in connection with the PNE and trade board president Frank Oliver will leave by this afternoon's plane. Mayor Frank Becker, a governor of the PNE will be present at the parade and opening ceremonies today.

NEWS FROM LUMBY

Teen Town Float Invited To Armstrong Fair Parade

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Lumby Teen Town's Cinderella float has been invited to appear in the parade at Armstrong fair, Sept. 15.

The invitation comes as no surprise to those who have observed the artistic ability of these young people over the past few years. Their mermaid float was no less acclaimed last year.

This year their float merited first prize in the "youth division" at July 1 Lumby Day celebrations. Then came an invitation to appear in the parade at the Kelowna Regatta. It was awarded second prize in the service club and society division.

On this trip the dozen young people that accompanied the float are still raving about Kelowna hospitality. The story is that they were working just outside the residence of B. J. Stolz on Ethel Street. After observing them as they worked at assembling their float for a short time, Mr. and Mrs. Stolz came out with cold soft drinks for everyone. They took them in their sitting room to watch television and offered anyone billets for the night.

Paving is almost completed on the portion of the Mill road south of Lumby earmarked for work this year. The job extends almost to Daniel's place not quite two miles out of Lumby.

Lumby and district Board of Trade has battled for many years to see work done on this road that passes through a very heavily populated area. With news that there is going to be a new bridge over the Shuswap River at the falls, the board feels its briefs and delegations have not been in vain.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kolson of Merritt have been visiting Mrs. Kolson's parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hadley in Lumby. Returning home with them is their son, Brunson, who enjoyed a few weeks' holiday with his grandparents. Mrs. Kolson operated a ladies' wear store in Merritt. Mr. Kolson is employed in the lumber room to watch television and industry.

No Volunteers For Post Of Liberal Candidate

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Taylor, president of the Liberal Association for Kasko-Slocan riding, said Friday his organization is having difficulty in obtaining a Liberal candidate for that riding.

The Liberals had to postpone a nominating rally Thursday night because they had no candidate for the Kasko-Slocan riding.

Taylor said Friday there is some talk of bringing a man in from outside the riding to stand for nomination to carry the Liberal banner for Kasko-Slocan in the coming B.C. election.

Meanwhile, the price of campaigning for the Sept. 12 election continued to increase Friday. Attorney-General Bonner announced Friday night that he hopes to instigate a Dominion provincial conference on economic development of the nation.

Bonner will propose the conference this October when federal and provincial representatives meet again to discuss tax-sharing. Bonner was giving an election speech at Naramata, near Penticton.

CCF candidate Mrs. Rhonda Erickson, speaking at Victoria, said Works Minister Chant has uttered "typical Social Credit double-talk designed to mislead the voting public."

Chant had noted fun at the CCF Thursday at a campaign meeting in Victoria. The CCF stated that B.C. has a debt of $55,000,000 "hanging over its head."

This is not debt, said Chant. Retorted Mrs. Erickson, "Why did the government pay so much interest on debt that Mr. Chant says does not exist?"

MEDICAL CARE PROGRAM
At Richmond, Health Minister Eric Martin told an election rally that the Social Credit government stands for an early start of a medical care program.

"The plan is based primarily on a doctor-patient relationship and the same existing free choice of physicians," he said.

The minister said representatives have already been made to the federal government advocating such coverage under the health insurance agreement between the provinces and Ottawa.

Bruch told an election meeting at Esquimalt that B.C. needs industry to use its vast power resources. Seeking re-election, Bruch said B.C. is the only area of the world with an abundance of unharmed water power and "we are the richest water power area in the world."

He said the province is "a rich water power area in the world."

HOMEWARD BOUND

Back to 'port' after spending most of the early evening Friday on Lake Okanagan is "No Fuelin", piloted here by Karen Redecopp. The boat, after running into several misfortunes during the course of the race, finished eighth. "Morning Mist" piloted by Larcine Imthorn took first in the Lady Skippers' race, topping a list of 10 entries. Races continue today and Sunday.

At a previous meeting of the board, July 28, it had been suggested the $125 fee was unrealistic, as, through every grade, each pupil was costing the board at least $320, and similar tuition at university would run to $1,200. A school district is not obliged to provide courses beyond the grade 12 level.

In both Vernon and Penticton $120 is the amount charged senior matriculation students. Trustee Art Pollard said having

Members were in agreement with School Superintendent Frank J. Orme's point of view that every possible effort should be made to encourage senior matriculation of students.

Senior Matric Fees May Not Be Hiked

Latest indications are that school fees of grade 13 students will not be increased, after all.

While no final decision has been reached, the consensus at a recent meeting of Kelowna and District School Board seemed to be to abide by the present charge of $125.

Members were in agreement with School Superintendent Frank J. Orme's point of view that every possible effort should be made to encourage senior matriculation of students.

Polling Booths Will Not Disrupt School Classes

School buildings in the district will not be made available as polling booths for the September 12 provincial election, unless it can be done without upsetting normal classroom activities.

L. Busch, election clerk, requested the use of the Ellison Elementary School and Mission Creek School buildings for balloting.

He was granted use of the Ellison building but refused that of Mission Creek.

Kelowna and District School Board trustees decided Thursday polling could proceed in the basement of the Ellison building without interfering with school routine.

However, they decreed Mr. Busch must seek other quarters at Mission Creek, where the four-room school has no basement.

N. Kamloops Boy Drowns In River

KAMLOOPS (CP) — A 10-year-old North Kamloops boy was swept to his death Thursday afternoon in the fast flowing waters of the North Thompson River.

Dead is Ronald Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nichols. The body has not yet been recovered. Police said the boy was cycling with a friend and stopped to have a swim in the river. The friend swam out into the river and returned safely. The younger boy decided to do the same but was swept into the river and drowned.

WOMAN INJURED

BURNS LAKE (CP) — Mrs. Bill Lopaschuk of Prince George suffered a fractured skull, eye injuries, shock and severe abrasions Thursday when her car collided with a deer near Burns Lake. The deer apparently leaped in front of the wind-shield. The woman's three children, also in the car, were not injured.

GREEN BOARDS THEY'LL BE KELOWNA TRUSTEES DECIDE

What color should a school blackboard be? Anybody who says "black" is dating himself.

Kelowna and District School Board has decided in favor of "restful" green ones for all classrooms in the new Dr. Knox school.

Architect John Woodworth had favored that the boards be of assorted colors, as is the case in the George Elliot High School.

This is thought in some quarters to promote a sense of color appreciation among the students.

Principal William Hawker wanted something less decorative.

An instance of "the functional versus the aesthetic" was the summing up of School Superintendent Frank J. Orme.

Green boards have been in use in most schools throughout the district for some time.

"And green goes with anything," Mrs. E. R. Pelly, the only lady member of the board, assured her male colleagues.

Kelowna Well Represented In Gala PNE Spectacular

Kelowna was well represented at the Pacific National Exhibition which began in Vancouver today.

Kathy Hillier, retiring Lady-of-the-Lake participated in a giant parade through Vancouver streets on the official PNE float.

The Orchard City had another representative at the fête in the person of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A. for the South Okanagan, who opened the "spectacular".

At 3 p.m. he pressed a button which sent a flame shooting from the top of the "anniversary torch" to mark the 50th PNE.

The 10-foot flame will burn from the 75-foot high torch during the Aug. 20-Sept. 5 exhibition.

The parade, which started at 10 a.m. from Georgia and Thurlow, was described as "shorter, snappier and more spectacular".

It took about one and one-half hours to pass any given point.

The route was down Burrard to Hastings, and along Hastings to Vernon Drive.

The parade moved along to the music of 20 bands, military and civilian, from all parts of B.C. and the Pacific Northwest.

Included in the marching units were representatives from 13 Canadian and U.S. warships which came to Vancouver for the PNE.

More than 50 colorful floats were the highlight of the big show.

The Rutland Rovers advanced into the Interior Men's Softball championships Friday night pounding out a 13-4 decision over Club 13.

Joe Ostreff went the distance for the Rovers limiting Club 13 to six hits and two "free passes".

Norbert Korthal, tagged for 12 safeties and six walks, absorbed the setback.

Vern Brummen with a circuit clout and Bob Campbell with a near-perfect three-for-four led the Rovers' offense.

Jackie Howard and Wayne North, each with home runs, spiced Club 13's attack.

Following this the fourth game in the best-of-seven final, the Rovers were presented with both the George Reiger Memorial Trophy and the Canadian Legion Cup.

They now travel to Prince George next weekend for the Interior championships.

B.C. Playdowns this year are being held in Nanaimo one week later.

Piles To Counter Soft Soil At School Site

Friction piles will be used to counter the effect of a small area of soft soil or sand at the site of the new Dr. Knox Junior-Senior High School.

J. R. Hume, chairman of the building committee, told a meeting of Kelowna and District School Board that the area of softness is confined to that which will be beneath the school gymnasium.

READY "BY WEDNESDAY"

Eligible Voters List Shows Big Increase

A net gain of 2,601 — making a new total of 18,051 persons in the South Okanagan Electoral District — was noted Friday as the voters' lists would be ready by Index of Polling Divisions and "Wednesday at the very latest."

Numbers on voters' lists were released here.

E. Ross Oatman, government agent, said Friday the complete voters' lists would be ready by Wednesday at the very latest.

Lists from the South Okanagan's 16 polling divisions are at the job-printers now.

The district check shows Benoulin climbed from 810 in 1956 to 879 this year. East Kelowna from 404 to 503, Ellison from 176 to 181, Glenmore from 617 to 771, Kelowna from 632 to 8,418, Okanagan Centre from 132 to 148, Rutland from 1,641 to 2,052, South Kelowna from 504 to 592, Summerland from 546 to 624, Westbank from 579 to 624, West Summerland from 1,627 to 1,879 and Winfield from 610 to 633.

Some divisions fell in the number of registered voters for the Sept. 12 provincial election.

Bear Creek fell from 32 in 1956 to 24 this year. Naramata from 409 to 346, Peachland from 392 to 356 and Joe Rich Valley from 22 to 13.

In 1956, out of a total of 15,446 registered voters, 10,748, or 69.5 percent, exercised their franchise to vote, Mr. Oatman said.

Carelessness Probable Cause Of Friday Knox Mountain Fire

Fire swept swiftly through 15 acres of grass, brush, trees and slash on the west side of Knox Mountain, Friday.

Members of the Kelowna Fire Brigade rushed to assist a force of 20 men from the B.C. Forest Service in combatting the blaze.

Having been reported at 3:30 p.m., it was declared "under control" at 7 p.m.

The cause remains unknown. Bert Hewlett, forest ranger, said today he was certain lightning had nothing to do with it, and, in all probability, carelessness on the part of humans started it.

This morning 15 men are continuing the "mopping up" operations.

It brings to six the number of fires burning in the district. All are under control.

About nine miles west of Terrace men in four men continue working on two recent fires, while the scenes of the remaining three are "under observation."

Winfield Brigade Confines Small Fire

WINFIELD — Winfield Volunteer Fire Brigade went into action Friday to combat a three-acre blaze.

The fire is believed to have started in an old shack at the south end of Wood Lake near the highway, and to have spread from there through the adjoining grass and brush.

The shack was destroyed but the brigade succeeded in saving another building on the same property. It was assisted in the final stages by the B.C. Forest Service suppression crew.

While it is not known exactly how the fire started, it is believed the shack was often used by transients.

LARGE INCREASE PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Schools in the Prince George district will be bulging when students file to classes on Sept. 6. Enrolment in the district is expected to jump by at least 500 students, straining current facilities to the limit.

DeGaulle Present Key Figure In European Trade Solution

Prime Minister Macmillan and Chancellor Adenauer, having reconciled their differences and come to an understanding as to how a more unified Western Europe can be achieved, still have their hardest job ahead. That job is to sell their ideas to President de Gaulle and secure his approval to an agreement which would end the controversy between the Common Market Six and the Outer Seven. They have two months in which they can endeavor to accomplish this.

Two months from now there will be what is virtually a Western Summit meeting on a large scale. At that time, the next meeting of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development will be held. This combines the six nations of the Common Market and the seven of the European Free Trade area. In addition, however, it also includes the United States and Canada.

If by the time this meeting takes place, Macmillan and Adenauer have succeeded in bringing De Gaulle into line with their ideas on Western European unity, this might well bring about a new deal in European affairs.

It was significant that at their meeting in Bonn, Macmillan and Adenauer under took to consult with their partners on the practical application of their agreement to bring all of western Europe into unity. This means that the German chancellor will consult his five partners in the Common Market, including France, while Britain will consult with its six partners in the European Free Trade Area.

It goes even further, however, since it implies that Britain will also hold consultations with the Commonwealth countries of which she is a partner. This is important to Canada. Dr. Adenauer, it is understood, has pledged himself to work for the acceptance of the entry of Commonwealth products into Europe on non-discriminatory terms. If that can be achieved, the way might be clear for the entry of Britain into the European Economic Community.

On the other hand, the next move for Britain will be to try to win over the other six members of the EFTA and the rest of the Commonwealth to accept the plan for Britain's entry into the Common Market. If the scheme to be put forward by Adenauer, for the entry of Commonwealth goods into the Common Market countries on non-discriminatory terms, is accepted by the Common Market countries, there might not be too much difficulty in Britain bringing all her partners into the EFTA and Commonwealth into line. And if that can be done, Britain's admission to the Common Market will have progressed a step nearer.

Market Place Music

The composers of Silent Night and Good King Wenceslas can hardly have imagined that their masterpieces would one day attain the status of a "non-conforming use" of property, like a glue factory. Yet so it has befallen at Cooksville just outside of Toronto in Ontario.

There a shopping centre was to be built near a high-class residential district. When the application came before the municipal council, the Toronto Planning Director opposed it, stating as one of his objections that there was bound to be carol singing at the centre during the Christmas season. This, he feared, would disturb many nearby residents.

We can sympathize with the planning director. The playing of carols in stores, once a pleasant novelty, has in recent years become almost a public nuisance. In many places the practice starts early in November, and from then until Christmas the loud-speakers blare out a few familiar songs from morning to evening—and on late shopping days far into the night. After the first few days, most shoppers find the music irritating and distracting, and the annoyance must be much greater on neighboring residents who form a permanent "captive audience." The people who are really to be pitied, however, are the sales staffs, who have to listen to the music, close up and full volume, through what is often a very long and harassing working day.

Whatever the fate of the Cooksville shopping centre application, we hope the incident will serve as a hint to merchants that the commercialization of Christmas carols has gone too far. These songs belong in the church and the home, not in stores and shopping centres.

Canadian Firm Builds Alumina Factory Down In Demerara

By BURECHILL O. WILLS
Mackenzie Press Correspondent
MACKENZIE, British Guiana (CP)—A Canadian-owned $35,000,000 alumina plant, largest single industrial enterprise ever undertaken in this British colony, is being built in tropical bush on the Demerara river.

The plant, scheduled to go into operation early next year, is being constructed by Demerara Bauxite Company, Ltd., a subsidiary of Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. It will produce fine white alumina powder out of bauxite, which will be shipped to Canadian smelters for processing into aluminum metal.

Demerara Bauxite has been mining and processing bauxite at Mackenzie since 1916, but the new alumina plant is a major advance. When completed it will bring Alcan's investment in British Guiana to nearly $70,000,000.

DENSE BUSH
The plant, 65 miles south of the capital, Georgetown, is reached by boat or seaplane. The bush is so dense that no road has yet been cut through.

Travelers sailing upstream by launch, river steamer or ocean-going barge freighter pass logging camps, primitive villages and scattered huts. After about six hours they reach Mackenzie, a modern town of 17,000 and second largest community in this colony on the northeast coast of South America.

The town's amenities include social and sports organizations, a 120-bed hospital, and several educational institutions provided by the company. There is a primary school with 1,400 pupils, a small elementary school for children of the 30 Canadians on the staff, an integrated high school, trade school, and school of nursing.

MINIMUM WAGE
Hundreds of workers have been trained in new skills in preparation for the plant's operations.

Wendell E. Bobb, general secretary of the British Guiana Mine Workers' Union, said the company pays a minimum wage of $7.20 a day, compared with the government minimum of $2.75 and the minimum $15.60 a week for white-collar workers in Georgetown. All employees receive at least two weeks' annual vacation, and can join a pension and life insurance scheme similar to ones offered in Canada.

Construction of the plant, designed to produce 235,000 tons of alumina a year, began in January, 1957. Markets, however, have not yet been found for all the potential output.

Alcan had hoped the total output would be required by an expanding aluminum-smelting industry. Since 1937 an intervening business recession and construction of new smelting facilities in other parts of the world have greatly increased competition and slowed the growth rate of individual producers.

BIBLE BRIEF

For thus saith the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel: In returning and rest shall ye be saved: in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not.—Isaiah 30:15.

The prophet here describes the attitude of mind and heart which God desires in His people: It is an attitude of humble and quiet trust based upon the richness of His promises.

CAUTIOUS CITIZEN

GALT, Ont. (CP)—Police here found that one job leads to another. During a recent hunt for a night prowler, police were asked to retrieve a pet dog for a man who would not go out and risk being arrested as the prowler.

On the other hand the plant is British Guiana. It provides jobs expected to have a considerable impact on the development of the territory's economy.

OTTAWA REPORT

Tariff Changes Key To More Jobs

Patrick Nicholson is on vacation. His Guest Columnist today is Grant Campbell, Conservative MP for Stormont, Ontario.

Since the last war our country has been confronted with the unprecedented situation that although our production, exports and incomes have all been increasing, unemployment has also been increasing. This so-called structural unemployment is doubtless partly due to automation, or to what is euphemistically called the rationalization of industry.

I believe that much can be done by the judicious manipulation of tariffs to increase the degrees of processing of raw materials for export and to expand secondary industry. Secondary industry, however, is not a complete answer. Howard Smith Paper Mills, in my own hometown of Cornwall, has spent some $12 million on a huge new machine which will tremendously increase her production of fine paper, but will not substantially increase employment, although those who might otherwise be discharged are retaining their jobs.

Nor are massive public works any final solution as they were in the old days of horse-scarpers and wheelbarrows. The former Minister of Public Works, Mr. Winters, stated that the Canso Causeway, which cost $23 million, employed only about 150 men at the height of construction.

The American writer, Galbraith, in a book called "The Affluent Society" contends that increasing automation will produce more consumer goods than we could possibly use. We all want two cars in our garage, but a third car would be more trouble than its use. Therefore, we must concentrate on producing more social capital, i.e., more schools, hospitals, libraries, concert halls, parks, conservation, and the elimination of air and water pollution. In other words, we must emphasize those things that make life more livable. The recent Dominion Provincial Fiscal Conference should result in more money being made available to the provinces and municipalities for the kind of local public works that will make more jobs and make our towns and cities better places in which to live.

Opposition in the House of Commons made about 25 specious suggestions for dealing with unemployment, they all boiled down to additional training facilities and the appointment of three committees to study the problem. The Senate has recently set up a committee under Professor John Deutsch of Queen's University to make exhaustive enquiries. A Royal Commission has been appointed to investigate the automobile industry, and the Minister of Labor has announced that our Federal Government will pay 75 per cent of the cost of training programs undertaken by any province.

Although it is a dull subject which even our grandfathers worried about, I believe that tariff changes are fundamental to increasing employment. Shortly after the last war, we had unlimited markets until the ravaged countries could reconstruct their industrial establishments. The dilemma that now confronts any Federal Government is that Ontario and Quebec want it to raise tariffs to protect our automobile, textile, and other industries while the rest of Canada wants it to lower tariffs to help them sell our raw materials, such as wheat, minerals, timber and fish. It is obvious that we must increase tariffs and quotas against countries like the United States, where we cannot increase our markets, and decrease them against countries like Japan, the British West Indies, etc., where we can sell our raw materials.

The United States only purchases from us what she cannot produce at home or buy cheaper elsewhere. Even if we did raise obstacles to the sale of her refrigerators, magazines, etc., in Canada, she would not cut the size of the Chicago Tribune in half just to spite Canada, especially when the publishers of this newspaper, themselves, own one of the largest Canadian paper mills. Although we needn't fear economic reprisals from the United States, we must realize that whenever it becomes cheaper to substitute Southern Pine for Canadian Spruce in the manufacture of newsprint, the United States will have no competition in doing so. Our uranium industry knows this only too well.

I believe that the answer to our unemployment problems lies in a drastic revision of our whole tariff structure with whatever changes in GAAT and our international commitments that may be required. The only alternative, and one which should be thoroughly explored, is to join the European Free Trade Area or some broader Atlantic alliance.

Now Here's A Job For A Tired Man

By M. McINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent
For the Kelowna Daily Courier

LONDON — At the railway coach works at Swindon, in Wiltshire, there is the unusual spectacle of a man who is paid for doing nothing. He is Paul Andrews, a 27-year-old railway coach finisher. Every day, he leaves his home and walks to the works.

Instead of carrying a tool kit, he carries with him a portable radio set to while away the time while he sits in the factory and does nothing. On payday, he walks up to the pay office and collects his wage of £11 a week net. His rate is £13.13.0, but deductions for income tax and national health insurance bring it down to the even £11 figure.

All of this has come about because of a dispute with his trade union. Mr. Andrews knows, every day he goes to the factory that he will not have to do a stroke of work. But nevertheless his wages are guaranteed.

TORE UP UNION CARD
Mr. Andrews became involved in a dispute with his trade union. He tore up his union card, and refused to pay union dues.

As a result of this, 500 of his fellow-employees, members of the National Union of Vehicle Builders, staged an unofficial sit-down strike, and lost a week's pay. He was then treated to "the angry silence." His work-mates sent him to Coventry and declared his work "black." The management consulted the foreman Ronald Cox, who found a solution to the problem of getting the strikers back to work. He told Mr. Andrews: "Don't do any work. But because the management has no complaint against you, you will still get your wages."

VERY EMBARRASSING
That is exactly what Mr. Andrews is doing.

"It is all very embarrassing to me," he said, "but it does mean that I no longer have to stay in the finishing shop working under single copy sales price, 5 cents."

the hostile glares of the men who sent me to Coventry. I pass the time by doing a bit of drawing. I'm very good at cartoons. I also listen to the radio, and talk to members of the union I want to join—the National Union of Railwaysmen. And when they make tea, I oblige by washing up the cups.

Mr. Andrews is quite frank in telling his reasons for tearing up his union card.

"The National Union of Vehicle Builders," he said, "is a minority union. At their meetings, everything seems to be cut and dried beforehand. They seem to be like a lot of sheep, and I don't like that. I would rather be a member of the NUR, but they won't let me."

The general secretary of the National Union of Vehicle Builders, Frank Winchester, retorted to this by saying:

"There is no reason whatever for Mr. Andrews to want to change his union. In any event, under union rules, the National Union of Railwaysmen would not be allowed to admit him."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Daily Courier,
Kelowna

Dear Sir:

After reading the article in the Courier, stating that residence in the Okanagan had reported getting television reception from distant TV stations, felt I wanted to drop you a line.

Personally, I don't think this is the result of any bouncing in from a satellite as I have been receiving far away stations off and on for almost three years and know some of my neighbors have also had these freak receptions. These are some of the stations I have received and been able to get the call letters very clearly, reception on rare occasions lasted up to five hours.

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

With regard to the proposed by-pass of Highway 97 at Peachland to the back of the town may I, and many others, sincerely congratulate the Department of Public Works and the Bennett government in doing so.

With the present pedestrian traffic across the road to the lake, the accident hazard is great. Also the new road will bypass the school about one hundred yards further from the school than the present highway.

With the continued disregard of the speed limit by the traffic, and a passing line the full length of the street, you can well imagine the number of close accidents which occur almost daily.

May I again congratulate those in charge of this most important change.

Yours sincerely,
DAN C. COUSINS,
Peachland

The Editor,
Kelowna Daily Courier

Dear Sir:
It appears to me that in his Personally Speaking column, the Ven. D. S. Catchpole is not always serious in his remarks, but is, on some occasions at least, simply seeking a little interesting controversy. This impression is supported by his rising words on July 29th, ("O.K. brothers, hammer away"), and so I hereby accept his invitation.

In his Dominion Day article he says as follows: "Perhaps if we heard a little less about the Liberals, the Conservatives, and the Socialists, and a little more about whether our national policy were in tune with God's idea of harmony, we should do rather better as an intermediary in world affairs."

On the same page he tells us of the blessing which, he says, resulted from throwing the Liberals out, and returning a Conservative Government.

Can anybody understand him?

Isaiah Renounces Social Evils

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Isaiah 5:1-24.

A man planted a vineyard in fruitful soil. He fenced it and built a tower in the midst of it, and then built a winepress there, and it brought forth wild grapes.—Isaiah 5:1-2.

"Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink. . . . And the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts."—Isaiah 5:11-12.

"Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness. . . . Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men . . . to take strong drink."—Isaiah 5:20-22.

"Their blossom shall go up as dust; because they have cast away the law of the Lord of Hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel."—Isaiah 5:24.

Memory Verse—Isaiah 5:16.

Pastor Willing To Discuss Basically Religious Drama

By TOM HENSHAW
NEW YORK (AP)—"Any play that asks an ultimate question about life or God is basically religious drama," says Rev. William Bell Glensky. And as such it's worth considering its message in church. Mr. Glensky, 33-year-old native of Toronto, has been putting his belief to the test in a series of church-theatre symposiums at the Spencer Memorial Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn. The pastor bases his sermon on a show currently playing across the bridge in Manhattan and invites the play's star to church to discuss its philosophical implications with the congregation. EXCHANGE VIEWS Recently the visitor was Grayson Hall, who plays a madam in off-Broadway's "The Balcony," a highly allegorical work by the Frenchman Jean Genet. The setting is a house of ill fame. But neither the setting nor the earthy language of the play had any role in the symposium. The

Hockey-Playing Clergymen Heads Anglican Project

BRISTOL, England (CP)—A Canadian-born clergyman, who once played hockey and lacrosse for Cambridge University, has been put in charge of an important Church of England social project. Rev. John R. G. Ragg, social and industrial adviser to the Bishop of Bristol, takes over Nov. 1 as head of Oxford House, the church's social service centre in the Bethnal Green district of East London. Born at Fruitvale, B.C., he is the son of Rt. Rev. H. R. Ragg, former bishop of Calgary and currently a lecturer at the Anglican Theological College, University of British Columbia. Educated at Ridley College, St. Catharines, Ont.; St. John's College, Winnipeg; and Mount Royal College, Calgary, Mr. Ragg received his degree at St. John's College, Cambridge, and has served in his present post for 10 years. Chaplain of the Canadian Veterans Association in Bristol and a former president of the Bristol Canadian Club, he spent three months on the staff of the administrative staff college at Henric House, established in 1941, is a centre of community social activities and a training ground for students of social work.

The TREMENDOUS Teens

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Exodus	46	2-3
Monday	Romans	14	23-25
Tuesday	Psalm	102	25-28
Wednesday	John	1	1-9
Thursday	Colossians	2	6-9
Friday	John	12	6-9
Saturday	Romans	12	19-18

Hardest fact for the adult mind to comprehend is that a teen-ager stands at the threshold of life.

When you enter a strange door you are uncertain. You don't know what's in store for you. You aren't sure which way to turn.

There may be familiar, welcoming voices — but even these now have the ring of uncertainty. For when your whole world is changing, can you be sure that the people around you are not changing also?

For boys and girls in this time of uncertainty the Church is the fulcrum of strength. Its truth is unchanging. Its teaching is clear. Its promises are worthy of hope, trust, endeavor, sacrifice.

The problems of the teen-ager are tremendous . . . but so is the might of his God. The character, the certainty, the charity of the Church inspires his ideals . . . challenges his courage.

Oris Douglas Resigns As Stamp Coach

CALGARY (CP) — A disillusioned Oris Douglas quit Friday as head coach of the Calgary Stampers because "it was no use staying."

Trapped 50-7 by Winnipeg Blue Bombers in a Thursday night Western Interprovincial Football Union contest at Winnipeg, his Stampers had shown a disastrous lack of desire that no one, including Douglas, could understand.

All he knew, Douglas told a press conference Friday, was that he had reached the end of the football road with the Stampers.

"It's no use no staying here. If they're going to go that way, it would hurt the fans, the boys, the ball club and the city."

Douglas' decision sent the Stampers executive into a frantic search for a replacement, but club president George McMahon said there were "several prospects" and it was hoped an announcement could be made "shortly."

After years of coaching problems, the Stampers since 1956 seemed to have solved their hiring and firing dilemmas with the selection of Douglas, who came here via Baltimore Colts, Chicago Cardinals and Villanova University.

Argos Startle Larks 36-14

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts today are convinced they have the dazzling magic they need to win the Grey Cup, the national football championship, in the bottom of the first quarter of the game.

The Argos are in the pasting arm of Tobin Rote, 33, former star with Detroit Lions who guided Argos to a 36-14 win over Montreal Alouettes Friday night while setting a 116-yard rushing record at the bottom of the first quarter.

Argos are reported to have paid $23,000 and promised a two-year contract to Rote, 10-year veteran of the National League. That money—perhaps the highest offered a player in Canadian football—seems to be paying off.

Friday night's win before 26,524, coupled with a 21-7 victory over the Rough Riders in Ottawa Tuesday, pushed Argos into the league lead, two points ahead of the Alouettes, who won their opener, 23-9, against Hamilton Tiger-Cats Tuesday.

Supertest III Close To Retaining Coveted Trophy

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
PICKTON, Ont. (C) — Canada today is only half an hour away from retaining the Harnsworth Trophy and the world championship in the dangerous and expensive sport of racing the largest power boats on earth.

An Embro, Ont., chicken farmer Friday hurled Canada's Miss Supertest III—Quinte.

His average speed for the entire 45-mile heat was 117.09 miles an hour.

The first three boats all broke the previous heat record; Gale V turned in 115.31 and Nitrogen Too was clocked at 108.87.

Nitrogen, Nitrogen Too's sister craft, was almost lapped by Supertest and no average speed was taken for her.

Richard Decides Not To Hang 'Em Up — Yet

MONTREAL (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, the most feared marksman in hockey history, may not be as quick on the draw as he used to be but he is not yet ready to call it quits.

He announced Friday, after a series of conferences with Montreal Canadiens manager Frank Selke, that he will be among those trying to berth when the National Hockey League and Stanley Cup champions open their training camp here Sept. 12.

If the Rocket finds that he still has it in him, he will start his 19th consecutive season as a major-league come October.

That in itself will not be an unprecedented feat. The long service record—one of several not held by the Rocket—is owned by Aubrey (D.D.) Clapper, who played 20 consecutive seasons for Boston Bruins from 1927-28 to 1946-47.

Labatts End Season With Impressive 17-6 "Tune Up"

By FRED COLLINS
Courier Staff Reporter

Hank "Garage" Tostenson performed a slight "tune up" job on his Kelowna Labatts Friday night at Elk's Stadium.

After all the "grease" had been whipped away, the Labs found themselves on the long end of an impressive 17-6 count.

The victims of the affair — one of the Labatts' best of the 1960 campaign — were the Merritt Metros of ex-Kelowna baseballer, Russ "Red" Graff.

The contest—which "rang down the curtain" on the regular 28-game schedule—was called after seven and one-half innings, by plate-umpire Ernie Fairholme.

The Metros, who by their late arrival, were responsible for the game's getting off fifteen minutes late were granted a "reprieve" by Fairholme's decision.

The Labatts now enter the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League semi-final against the pennant-winning Vernon Carlings.

The first game, which will see standouts chukkers Ray Scott and Jim Staff (11-1) pitted against each other, goes Sunday afternoon in Vernon's Polson Park.

The visitors were never really in the game as they took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first, saw it converted into a 4-2 deficit by the end of the inning and then "boobed" their way around the field until Fairholme's face-saving ruling.

Seven errors—three alone by shortstop Eddy Mountain in the seventh—didn't aid their cause.

The Labs weren't exactly the

New York Yankees either as they booted several plays—most of them of the routine variety.

Heavy-hitting catcher Jackie Burton, who collected three "bloopers" in five trips, committed two of the four Lab errors.

Frankie Fritz cracked a solid three-run home run in the first to spice the winners' extra-base blows department. The solo blast, however, wasn't enough to pull the big second-sacker into a tie with the loop's home run king, Jack Wheelhouse of the Vernon Carlings.

Gerry Goyer, who hasn't been collecting his share of "luck" at the plate during the latter stages of the schedule, went a perfect three-for-three—including a double to the right centrefield wall in the seventh inning.

Slapping the other double for the winners was Burton.

Best on view for the Metros was Bill Chapman, with two safeties in three at-bats.

The Labs must have set some sort of an OMBL record in the first two innings when they sent their complete batting order up twice. The out-burst netted seven runs on four hits and one Merritt error. They stranded five—three in the second inning.

Stout southpaw Jack Denbow lasted until the seventh when Tostenson went in to pinch-hit in a bases-loaded, one-out situation. Ray Scott "saved" Denbow's eighth win of the campaign against one loss—facing six men in the top of the eighth.

Dave Besse, who didn't last the first inning after dishing Fritz this three-run offering, suffered the setback. Chapman came in relief and later gave back the mound duties to Besse, who had, during the interval, split his time between shortstop and second.

Graff, a loquacious first-sacker, made two wholesale changes in the game—one in each of the first and third innings. They didn't help the club as shortstops became outfielders and pitchers became catchers.

The loss dropped the Metros from their sixth-place tie with the Summerland Maes. They have a chance to climb over the "southern" crew Sunday in Merritt when they tangle with the Maes in a double-header.

Yukon River Ferry Last Of Its Kind In Far North

DAWSON, Yukon (CP) — The all-weather road north from Dawson, the ferry across on pulleys, which once carried horse-drawn wagons, will be the only one left on the Yukon route. The McQuesten of the cargo, Commercial fisherman, is last year carried 3,624 cars and men committed from the west the last of a type familiar in the 8,511 passengers—mostly tourists, bank to sell grayling, whitefish and salmon.

The first ferry at Dawson was built in 1901. A tower was 30,000 residents. With completion of bridges erected on the east bank and at one time a hotel was built over the Stewart and Pelly River cable strung across the Yukon to near the ferry tower, called the Marconi Hotel because of interest in the then-new invention of wireless. The tower was torn down in 1944 after being severely damaged by ice carried by flood waters. A new ferry landing was constructed downstream.

The present 52-foot ferry, powered by a 170-horsepower diesel engine, starts service each May following breakup. It operates seven days a week until about mid-October when ice again blocks the river.

In the wheelhouse is Dick Fields who has spent most of his life on the great rivers of northern Canada—the Mackenzie and Yukon.

CAPTAIN'S PAPERS
Born on the South Nahanni River, where his father was a trapper and trader, he grew up at Fort Simpson, N.W.T. He was working on river boats at 16, and now holds temporary captain's papers.

"Engine failure is my biggest worry," said the young skipper. "There is a current running seven miles an hour and we head downstream pretty fast."

"I just angle the ferry into shore, try to fix the engine and if I can't, a couple of small boats come to our rescue and tow us back to the landing. Passengers don't get excited and take it as part of a Yukon experience."

The McQuesten is an important link in the tourist industry, fast becoming the mainstay of this community of 900. It connects the Whitehorse-Dawson road with the Sixty Mile ridge road, a 175-mile dirt stretch joining the Alaska Highway at Tetlin Junction in Alaska.

ONE FLOOR, ONE LIFE
Someone had left the casement window partly open. The cat had climbed out. Now she crouched on the smelly surface of the air-conditioner, looking at the ground—nine floors below. A bird flew by and she made a pass at it. I knew she'd be a goner—nine lives and all.

But it wasn't really the fate of Lady Dottie that worried me. At that moment I could hear my seven-year-old daughter, Tracy, singing in the bathroom. I knew that if anything happened to her, I'd want to die, too.

"You know, if a robber or someone like that broke into this house, I'd bust him right in the that if anything happened to her, I'd want to die, too."

"I saw that cat out there, I—well, What could I do? Like every father and husband, I had daydreamed a thousand times about how heroically I would face any danger or disaster that threatened my family—how I would save them from drowning if a boat overturned... get them out of a theatre on fire... punch the nose into an invading burglar."

"Here, kitty!" I called weakly, rising. Lady Dottie heard me and crouched lower. Panic overcame me. I clumped out to the kitchen where my wife was annoying two eggs with a fork in the skillet.

"Tracy," I mumbled. "The cat... the window... Frances took one look at my face and then brushed wordlessly past me into the living room."

"Nice kitty," she said softly. "Nice kitty."

MOM TO THE RESCUE
She reached her hand unhesitatingly out and began to stroke Lady Dottie's back. The cat crouched as if to spring away. But in that second's pause, Frances gripped her firmly. She hoisted the cat, still without hurry, back inside.

Then we heard a cry. Tracy on the smelly surface of the air-conditioner, looking at the ground—nine floors below. A bird flew by and she made a pass at it. I knew she'd be a goner—nine lives and all.

"You know, if a robber or someone like that broke into this house, I'd bust him right in the that if anything happened to her, I'd want to die, too."

"I saw that cat out there, I—well, What could I do? Like every father and husband, I had daydreamed a thousand times about how heroically I would face any danger or disaster that threatened my family—how I would save them from drowning if a boat overturned... get them out of a theatre on fire... punch the nose into an invading burglar."

"Here, kitty!" I called weakly, rising. Lady Dottie heard me and crouched lower. Panic overcame me. I clumped out to the kitchen where my wife was annoying two eggs with a fork in the skillet.

"Tracy," I mumbled. "The cat... the window... Frances took one look at my face and then brushed wordlessly past me into the living room."

"Nice kitty," she said softly. "Nice kitty."

MOM TO THE RESCUE
She reached her hand unhesitatingly out and began to stroke Lady Dottie's back. The cat crouched as if to spring away. But in that second's pause, Frances gripped her firmly. She hoisted the cat, still without hurry, back inside.

Then we heard a cry. Tracy on the smelly surface of the air-conditioner, looking at the ground—nine floors below. A bird flew by and she made a pass at it. I knew she'd be a goner—nine lives and all.

But it wasn't really the fate of Lady Dottie that worried me. At that moment I could hear my seven-year-old daughter, Tracy, singing in the bathroom. I knew that if anything happened to her, I'd want to die, too.

DAILY COURIER HOUSE OF THE WEEK

PLAN NO. R4B-943
AREA: 943 SQ. FT.
THE BUILDING CENTRE (B.C.) LTD.
VANCOUVER, B.C.

MAIN FLOOR PLAN

SPLIT ENTRY WITH A "BIG" LOOK
Two things that most people are looking for, but rarely obtain, in a house designed for the N.H.A. "agency" loan, and the illusion of space, with room for expansion. Here is another version of the ever popular split entry type of house, with two bedrooms on the upper or main floor, and room for further expansion in the lower level. Two bedrooms, or possibly a small suite, could be embodied into the generous basement area. The Design Department has given this house plenty of large windows throughout to give lots of light. The fireplace in the living room, flanked on the one side by a planter wall. See how much space is then provided for attractive arrangement of furniture. The kitchen-dining-family room is planned for the convenience of all the family while mother's particular domain is planned for efficiency. On the practical side, the plumbing is planned back to back with the bathroom, for economical installation. The attractive front of this house with the wide overhanging eaves welcomes the visitor, while the use of many of the new siding and stucco finishes make it a beautiful home.

Conciliation Board Set In Lumber Talks
PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A conciliation board has been named to hear a dispute between the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) and the Northern Interior Lumbermen's Association.

The board will convene in Prince George on Aug. 30 to deal with the stalled negotiations. Labor and management representatives have been named to the board.

J.G. Gold of Vancouver will represent Eagle Lake Sawmills Limited and Eric Brown of Vancouver will sit in for Tabor Creek Sawmills Limited.

Prince George Man's Death Investigated
PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Police at Prince George are investigating circumstances surrounding the Thursday shooting of a 69-year-old man.

The victim, Pete Larsen, is in fairly good condition after surgery removed a bullet from his stomach.

Larsen was apparently shot with a .22-calibre rifle at his home in the Island Cache district.

Canada's Moslems Get New Leader
EDMONTON (CP) — A new spiritual leader for Canada's Moslems has arrived to take over his duties.

Hamoudah Abdul Ati, formerly of Cairo, is also imam-officiating priest of Edmonton's Al Raschid mosque.

"We don't want to make converts," said the 32-year-old leader of the several hundred Moslems in Canada. "We want to bring Christians and Moslems together in the face of a common enemy—atheistic materialism."

Abdul Ati is a graduate of Cairo's Al Azhar University, the United Arab Republic's Moslem education centre, and earned his MA in Islamic studies at McGill University, Montreal. He hopes to acquire his PhD while here.

Discussing the responsibilities of his new position, he said he will strive for unification and co-ordination of Al Raschid congregation, establishment of schools for Moslem children and education of the public in the nature of Islam.

Heating Men recommend SELKIRK CHIMNEYS
'cause they're FACTORY-BUILT!

Chimneys are a specialized product, just like a furnace. Chimneys need to be designed right, and built right.

With a Selkirk, you'll find better performance from your furnace — quicker draft and steadier draft.

No need to clean a Selkirk either. The factory-built design keeps the flue clean. You save on cleaning bills, and more important, you'll feel safer with a clean Selkirk chimney. 99

What Type Of Worker Needs Glasses More

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D. Who wears glasses? A good many of us, it seems. Latest estimates are that about 77,000,000 Americans wear eye-glasses and another 6,500,000 wear contact lenses.

As has long been suspected, a survey indicates that persons whose work requires close-up use of the eyes are more likely to wear glasses than are those who can frequently look off into the distance.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER (Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

North dealer. Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH: ♠ 4, ♥ 62, ♦ AQ10851, ♣ AK4. EAST: ♠ J9, ♥ J1088, ♦ J762, ♣ Q3. SOUTH: ♠ KQ5, ♥ AQ74, ♦ K8, ♣ 10882.

The bidding: North 1♦, East 1♥, South 2♦, West 3NT.

Opening lead—six of spades. Bridge is a game of reasoning. The more logical you are at the table, the better your results will be over a period of time. General rules can be memorized, and will serve their purpose for a time, but unless the reason behind the rule is known it becomes easy to misapply or overlook the principle involved.

Now here is a case where it is likely that many players would go wrong. South is in three no-trump and gets a spade lead. He wins the jack with the king. Obviously, the suit to attack is diamonds, but when he plays the king and another diamond West

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW: Generous influences will govern personal relationships on Sunday. The day will be a fine one in which to encourage new friendships, strengthen old ties and to participate in social and recreational activities of any type. During the P.M., look for some good news.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY: If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a happy and prosperous year. You are currently in a cycle which should be excellent from a material standpoint if you refuse to indulge in extravagant whims, particularly during September and October. Carelessness then could offset the gains possible this month, in mid-December and early 1961. Good opportunities for business expansion are indicated within the first three months of 1961.

Job interest will be under fire during the next 12 months, and there are splendid influences for domestic relationships and affairs involving family security. The current month, mid-December, May and June will be notable for sentimental matters, and early January gives promise of increased popularity and prestige, as well as new opportunities for business expansion.

A child born on this day will be self-confident, friendly and a dynamic in public dealings.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW: Maintain a down-to-earth attitude on Monday. Don't go to extremes but follow routine with care. An excellent Mercury aspect may bring unusual news by mail or other forms of communication.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY: If Monday is your birthday, your chart promises occupational advancement and a very sharp upturn in your financial status during the next year. Do not, however, allow undue optimism to lead you into extravagance or speculation during September or October or you could weaken your position.

Domestic, social and sentimental relationships will be under excellent aspects during most of the year, with emphasis on romance during the balance of this month, in mid-December, May and June. During September, try to avoid tension and don't over-tax health.

A child born on this day will be versatile, ambitious and a loyal friend.

THE MIGHTY MUSKIE

LURES MAY BE VALUED AMONG THE PEOPLE OF THE NORTH. A MUSKIE IS A FISH THAT IS NOT STRIKE FOR DAYS, BUT WHEN THEY DO THE LEAP OUT OF THE WATER, THE NOISE OF BATTLES, THE BOAT ALL THE WAY.

LOWER PERCENTAGE: Only about one-third (35.4 per cent) of the workers on routine production jobs require glasses and, for unskilled labor, the figure is 31.6 per cent.

INFORMATIVE STATISTICS: Now these are statistics, of course, and statistics are generally pretty boring if they do not interest you.

WOMEN MORE AFFECTED: Although you may not think it true, women are generally more likely to develop vision defects than are men.

Industrial accidents are a major source of eye injury. About 1,000 eye injuries occur every day throughout the nation's industries.

J. D. L.: What harm would result if kidney stones are not removed? Answer: In addition to the severe attacks of pain, kidney stones may block a kidney, leading to loss of function of the kidney and infection.

Indication for removal depends upon their size, location and how much trouble they are causing.

JULIET JONES: SO YOU FIGHT SUPERBLY TOO, MIKE. IS THERE NO END TO YOUR TALENTS? THE ACHIEVEMENT OF AN IDEAL—IT'S DAYTIME, MR. GAYLE... AND THE SUN IS SHINING... AND I AM NOT MESMERIZED BY MOONLIGHT OR YOUR WELL-PRACTICED CHARMAS, NOW SUPPOSE YOU GET BACK TO YOUR CIVIC VIRTUE!

BUZZ SAWYER: YOU IDIOT, JOLLY! YOU CUT ACROSS THE BOW OF AN AIRCRAFT CARRIER! SHE WAS GOING FASTER THAN I THOUGHT, BUZ. NEARLY RAN US DOWN, TOO! IF SHE HAD TURNED SUDDENLY, SHE'D HAVE GOT US.

BRICK BRADFORD: IF I FIRED SHOTS ON BOTH SIDES OF SHADY I'D PROBABLY GET WHOEVER HOLDS HIS HEAD.

BLONDIE: WHAT BECAME OF THE FRENCH HITTERS FOR OUR SUPPER?

GRANDMA: GOOD LAND, THAT LOOKS LIKE A TERMITE!

MICKY MOUSE: HERE WE ARE! ECHO LAKE! HELLO, THERE! HELLO, THERE! THERE'S THUD ECHO! TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS A PIECE FOR YOUR LICENSES, PLEASE!

DONALD DUCK: MIRROR, MIRROR, ON THE WALL... WHO IS THE FAIREST ONE OF ALL?

ROY ROGERS: BREEZY, IF YOU'RE LYIN' TO ME ABOUT BIG BERTHA, THAT JAIL WON'T BE STRONG ENOUGH TO HOLD YOU!

MUGGS AND SKEETER: WHERE ARE YOU HEADED, SKEETER? OK! YOU GO THAT WAY AND YELL FOR SAMMY... AND I'LL RIDE DOWN THIS WAY AND YELL FOR THE DOG! NO! BEST WE STAY TOGETHER AND LOOK FOR JUNIOR'S LEASH... SAMMY'S ON ONE END, AND JUNIOR'S ON THE OTHER!
